

ARE MARKING TIME

HOUSE WAITING FOR SENATE TO GET THROUGH.

GODDESS OF LIBERTY

Is Now Taking Her Occasional Bath—A Record in Foreign Trade Made by the Country.

(By W. C. Van Cleave.)

Washington, D. C., July 21.—While waiting for the senate to pass the tariff bill the house decided last week to resort to the delectable sport of investigating some more. The senate investigation has been supplying a goodly amount of interesting information and furnishing a harvest for the newspaper correspondents, and the house has felt itself rapidly sinking into temporary desuetude. So a resolution was passed broad enough to cover the past, present and hereafter of both dead and living, here and elsewhere, and preparations were made to start the mill to going, but the senate refused to give up its star performers until through with them, and we are therefore still marking time.

The senate investigation has resulted in some startling disclosures and developed mental portraits of some monumental jackasses. That a lobby has always existed here, and perhaps always will, was easily proved, not one lobby but numerous ones. Of this the public has been pretty well convinced, but the public never knew of Mulhall nor the pair of New York shysters who termed themselves "Wall street operators."

Mulhall is just a shrewd lobbyist who maintained a comfortable existence by serving the privilege seekers in political chicanery, but it would require a more emphatic and less elegant expression to convey even a faint idea of Lamar and his right bower Lauterbach. From the evidence introduced and their own admissions they would appear to be simply a pair of financial sandbaggers with the gall of a hundred men and utterly shameless. Financials and public men were impersonated without reserve in telephone conversations, and when confronted with the evidence the fraud was promptly admitted by Lamar with brazen impudence. When one distinguished United States senator had asked to be sworn, and stated under oath that he had never seen or heard of Lamar, and that so far as he was concerned Lamar was every kind of a liar and several sorts of a criminal, Lamar calmly arose in his seat and said: "Don't allow yourself to get excited, senator; all you say has been proved and admitted here in evidence." And yet this peculiar sort of an "operator" was able to say to the senate committee and to the legal machinery of the country, "What are you going to do about it?" and as yet nobody knows, so skillfully did he operate to dodge the laws of the country.

The tariff bill is now before the senate, and from present indications will be speedily passed. Republican senators must be given time to make their stereotyped predictions of calamity and ruin, and then the steam roller will begin to move. The bill as reported to the senate carries lower duties in many cases than the bill that passed the house. It is not thought, however, that many of the amendments will be opposed seriously when it comes back to the house, and the leaders believe an agreement will be possible in conference without much delay.

The Goddess of Liberty is now taking her occasional bath. She doesn't suffer her dainty feet to come in contact with water often, but once in a long while consents to a thorough rub down by a competent corps of attendants and masseurs. And when she does it is no little matter. The goddess stands upon the great dome of the capitol and proclaims liberty, equality and freedom of opportunity year in and year out, away above and out of hearing of her noisy representatives below. When bath time comes a tere of men must climb the dome, a thing many tourists desire but few attain, then go on the outside, and by means of ladders and scaffolds reach the side of the goddess. Each piece of lumber must be carried up the long distance and be taken down in like manner. For two weeks a number of men have been busy with scrub brushes and paint brushes, brightening up her raiment, and when the job is finished she will emerge in bright summery attire, perhaps with a slit skirt. Uncle Samuel will have to plank down sixteen thousand dollars to the boss masseur, but think of the joy of a bath at this season of the year.

A record in the foreign trade of the United States was made in the fiscal year 1913 just closed, as set forth in figures which the department of commerce has just made public. Both imports during the year were considerably larger than ever before—imports aggregating $1,812,621,160, and exports $2,465,761,910. For the preceding year the figures were $1,653,264,934 and $2,264,322,469.

The foreign commerce for 1913 totaled $4,278,383,070, as compared with $3,857,587,343 for 1912, an increase of $420,795,727, of which $159,356,226 was in imports and $261,439,501 in exports.

By careful analysis it has been found that alfalfa is equal to bran in protein content. Wheat bran costs about $21 per ton, whereas alfalfa can be grown for $5.15 per ton, as shown by the figures presented on this chart. Why should any one buy wheat bran when it costs four times as much as alfalfa, and alfalfa makes just as good, or even better, feed than wheat bran?

RAISING SKUNKS

P. M. SMITH OF NEAR ARKOE HAS TWENTY-ONE OF THEM.

TO SELL THEIR HIDES

As It Is Worth From $3 to $5—As Easy to Raise as Chickens Are, Says Mr. Smith.

The only skunk farm in the county, at least the only one where they are raising skunks, is down near Arkoe, one and a half miles northeast of that town. It belongs to P. M. Smith, an old trapper, having been in that business ever since he was 8 years old.

Mr. Smith is experimenting with skunks for the purpose of selling their hides, which sell for from $3 to $5. The oil from a skunk averaged about $1.

Mr. Smith was recently in the city, and in talking to a representative of this paper, said:

"Skunks are so scarce that we must go to raising them to accumulate the furs to supply the demand of the market. It is no more trouble to raise them than to raise chickens."

"I started last April and had one skunk at that time. Now I have twenty-one of them. I keep them in a pen, three feet high, no top, and a floor bottom about a half inch thick. And they don't throw their scent."

"My boy, Ernest, played with the skunks, the same as he would with a kitten."

"The Kiss and the Red Ear" by Homer Croy

Every summer, when the tent shows come to town, and during the "specialty," some boy in the audience lets off some wit, and the actor immediately replies with that stock joke, "You can take the boy out of the country, but you can't take the country out of the boy." If this joke ever fit anyone, Homer Croy is the person. He can't keep from saying and writing things which reveal his rural bringing up and his secret longing to get back to the "sticks" and good old times. The following story of his, taken from Collier's Weekly, is one more proof of this.

I see by the papers that the scientists are doing all they can to eliminate the red ear. They say that this shows that the breed of corn is running out, and that the red ear is good for nothing.

I beg leave to differ with them. It is good for a kiss.

And there is nothing better than a kiss—unless it's a hammock.

Old Mr. Taylor, who lived on Clear creek, had a large family of girls, and it didn't take him any time to get his fodder shucked out. Along in the fall he would spread his fodder on the hall floor of the barn and have a shucking bee. Every time you found a red ear you had to kiss your partner, and I certainly loved to shuck corn. It is my favorite recreation. The work never galls on me. I'm not much on standing corn, but when it comes to fodder I dearly love to strip the ear bare of its

FREED OF CHARGE

EVIDENCE NOT SUFFICIENT, SAYS JUSTICE W. L. JOHNSON.

THEY WERE RELEASED

Hawk, Kinder and Conklin Discharged From County Jail On Charge of Robbery.

"Buzzard" Hawk, "Peg" Conklin and "Yats" Kinder were freed Wednesday of the charge of robbery brought against them in a preliminary hearing in Justice Johnson's court.

Judge Johnson said that the evidence was not sufficient to show that a crime had been committed, and therefore the defendants could not be held. On the other hand, the testimony showed that the plaintiff, George Black of Trenton, who alleged that the three defendants had robbed him on the night of July 5, was too intoxicated at that time to know what happened to him.

The case, which lasted all day yesterday, occasioned a great interest, as the defendants are well known here, and many people thought they would be bound over for trial at the September term of circuit court.

The most damaging piece of evidence against Hawk, Conklin and Kinder was that after being with Black on the night of the alleged assault they left town on a freight train the next day. They were traced through Iowa and Nebraska, and were not arrested until last Friday, when they were apprehended in St. Joseph. The defense, however, brought out that although they left town, they did not do it in a skulking manner. They were here for a day after the alleged assault, and when arrested were found at the home of Hawk's mother, a place where the police would be likely to look for them.

The fact that none of the clothing or money Black said was taken from him was found in the possession of the defendants, and also the fact that the evidence showed that Black had spent too much money to have left what he said was stolen from him, aided in the acquittal of the three men.

Word was received today that the remains of Logan Holt, who died Wednesday morning at 5 o'clock at Ft. Collins, Col., after a short illness, had left that place at 9 o'clock this morning. It is expected that the body will arrive in Maryville some time Friday, by way of Omaha, and funeral services probably will be held on Saturday at the residence on Prather avenue.

Mrs. W. H. Davenport, the only daughter of Mr. Holt, is on her way to Maryville for the services. Mrs. Davenport lives at St. Petersburg, Fla.

According to a letter received Thursday, Mr. Holt died from gangrene, which developed following an injury to the left thigh during an auto ride. The injury was received last Friday, Mr. Holt being in an auto stage coach on his way to a ranch about fifty miles from Ft. Collins. The auto stage coach hit a chuck hole, throwing Mr. Holt from his seat, and when he came down his thigh struck the side of the car and the bruise resulted in gangrene setting in. He was taken to a hospital at Ft. Collins and was attended by a friend of his—Dr. Goodings.

EAT HORSE MEAT.

Popularizing of Horse Meat as a Food—Horse Meat Being Sent to Europe.

A dispatch from Chicago states that plans for a dinner to remove the prejudice against the eating of horse flesh were announced recently by Hugo Krause, superintendent of the Anti-Cruelty society. It will be given in the stock yards district and will be the first feast of its kind in Chicago.

The popularizing of horse meat as food will prevent much of the cruelty these animals suffer, Mr. Krause believes. He says there are 250,000 horses in Chicago, and they last an average of five years before becoming disabled. He says that after five years horses should be butchered for food instead of being worked longer or sent to the country for use there.

"There are 250,000 foreigners in Chicago who are accustomed to eating horseflesh," said Mr. Krause. "Horses are being slaughtered in Chicago today, the meat salted and shipped to Europe."

"There are twenty-five thousand poor persons in the city who cannot buy beef. They need meat for nourishment and could buy horse steaks at 10 and 15 cents."

WAS FOUND DEAD

MRS. J. F. HILDEBRAND OF GUILFORD MET DEATH AS RESULT OF

DUE TO FIRE AND BLOW

Her Night Clothing Caught Fire and Then She Fell On Well Curb, Striking Her Head.

Mrs. J. F. Hildebrand, wife of a retired merchant of Guilford, was found this morning by her husband lying dead at the well curb in the yard. Her burned night clothing and a pool of blood next to the curb indicated that death had been due to fire and the blow received when her head struck the curb as she fell.

Mr. and Mrs. Hildebrand, a couple in their sixties, and Mrs. Robert Nelson, who has been living with them for some time, were all sitting together Wednesday evening in the house. Just before they went to bed Mrs. Hildebrand asked that the fire in the cook stove be left going, as she might want to get up in the night and make some coffee. She had been in poor health of late and often got up during the night to make herself a cup of coffee or tea.

They all went to bed then, and nothing was known of the accident until this morning. Mr. Hildebrand said that he had been awake once or twice during the night, but that he had heard no cries of any kind and supposed that his wife was in the kitchen making her coffee.

This morning Mr. Hildebrand got up and went out of the kitchen door to get some water. He found his wife dead at the well. Her night dress was burned from her body, and some underclothing which she had on was scorched. She had fallen against the well curb and cut her head. A set of artificial teeth had fallen from her mouth, but the glasses which she was wearing were unbroken. Evidently her clothing had caught fire from the stove or in an endeavor to light a lamp, and she had run to the well to get water and put out the flames. The flames had apparently swept around her head, strangling and overcoming her so that she fell and struck her head against the well curb, the two things causing her death. There was no evidence of any coal oil or gasoline having been used.

No funeral services have been arranged for as yet.

Two sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. Hildebrand, one of whom is living. He is Herbert Hildebrand, who is in the freight office of the Chicago Great Western railway at St. Joseph. Harry, the other son, died several years ago. His widow and two children live in Guilford.

Dr. Barnett telephoned the circumstances to Coroner Will Wallis, Jr., of Maryville this morning, and he decided that no inquest would be necessary.

About three years ago Mrs. W. S. Dunlap was killed in an accident almost identical with this one, and only two blocks away from it.

THE GOOD ROADS PROCLAMATION.

Twenty years ago, even ten years ago, a good roads proclamation like that issued Monday by Governor Major would have been a surprising document. It would have been subject to ridicule. We were then vaguely muttering of iniquitous highways. There was no generally constructive program in sight.

Governor Major's proclamation makes good road work every man's immediate concern. It becomes the business of every able-bodied Missourian on August 21 and 22 to see that he personally does something toward making the state highways better.

The idea is not altogether new. Michigan tried it this spring. Michigan farmers, merchants and bankers made it a success. One college president shoveled gravel all day. Women fed the workers by the roadsides.

Missouri's roads have been ordinary dirt roads in the past. This year permanent work is being done. The new motor vehicle act has placed at the disposal of the state road builders a fund of $225,000 for use in the next two years. This money is paying for the split-log drags that are now smoothing the highways running from county seat to county seat.

The sentiment in favor of better roads makes Governor Major's proclamation timely and popular. Men are talking good roads in the hay fields, crossroads stores and across line fences. The thousands of men and teams, split-log drags, graders and rollers that will be strung out along the highways of the state for two days next month will be convincing evidence that the state realizes the fact that better roads mean a better country life.—St. Louis Republic.

Moral Courage.

The courage to be just; the courage to be honest; the courage to resist temptation; the courage to do one's duty; this is the moral courage that characterizes the highest order of manhood and womanhood—it is the courage without which no great permanent success in life is achieved.—Samuel Smiles.

No Hurry.

Jealous One—So you screamed when Jack tried to kiss you?
Other One—I did nothing of the kind!
Jealous One—But I heard you.
Other One—Oh, but that was not until after he had kissed me.—Illinois Siren.

he withdrew, and a kind neighbor took me home in a buckboard. I did not thank the neighbor, as I did not know that he had taken me home until the next morning.

But it was no time until I was out and myself again. In a couple of weeks I could sit up, and in three weeks I could walk to the front porch.

But there was an inner injury that stung me worse than where Lufe had been on my features. He publicly said that I had used the same ear all evening!

Still I wish the agricultural scientists wouldn't do away with the red ears. I wish they would leave just one anyway!

Broke Tomato Record in Kansas City.

Joseph F. Brown, a Kansas City traveling salesman and a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hastings of Maryville, has broken the Kansas City record for big tomatoes. The 17-inch size was the record breaker until Tuesday of this week, when the Kansas City Star said that Mr. Brown has in his garden, at 2614 Campbell street, a tomato of the Ponderosa variety measuring nineteen inches, and that it is still growing.

Miss Vera Pearson, who has been visiting Mrs. Ed Bratcher and other friends and relatives in and near Maryville for some time, left Thursday morning for her home in Okeene, Okla.

day anniversary. The children played many games and afterward sang songs, and there were several piano numbers by the honor guest and her cousin, Irene Maxwell. A white luncheon was served from the dining table, all in white, centered with a beautiful white birthday cake and lighted with ten candles. The guests were Bernice Bratcher, Mildred and Lucile Avitt, Lucretia, Neola and Selma Smith, Agnes Murray, Gladys Cuiverson, Juanita and Eva Edwards, Helen Smith, Irene Maxwell, Ethel Moss and Velma Hagan.

Surprised Indiana Student.

A successful surprise party was given Wednesday evening at the home of Professor and Mrs. J. A. Lesh, a compliment to Mrs. Lesh's sister, Miss Amber Leone Mabring of Muncie, Ind., who has been attending the State Normal the past year and will leave soon for her home. The day was also her birthday anniversary. Lawn games were played and refreshments were served on the porch. On behalf of the guests, who are fellow students of Miss Mabring, Jack Holt presented her a State Normal pennant five feet long. The guests were Miss Elizabeth Cook, Miss Elizabeth Sobbing, Miss Wilda Leazenby, Miss Mary Martin, Miss May Mahoney, Miss Grace DeMotte, Miss Helen Kemp, Miss Beatrice Sewell, Misses Grace and Emma Dugny, Miss Grace Berry, Miss Mabel Graham, Miss Stella Rogers, Jack Holt, Walter Scott, Glen Treasure, Ursel Crockett, Mr. Dunnigan, Mr. Webb, Mr. Rowland, Mr. Ross, Mr. Robinson, Mr. Crawford, Mr. Wilson, Mr. White.

For Visitors From Ohio.

Mrs. R. S. Braniger entertained the Penelope club Wednesday afternoon, complimentary to Mr. Braniger's sisters, Mrs. E. J. Hogue and Miss Alice Braniger of Colwell, O., who are visiting here.

There was a large attendance of the membership, and during the business session it was decided the club should have a tent during Chautauqua, as a resting place for the club and its friends. There were other visitors aside from the honor guests, one an out-of-town member, Mrs. Ralph G. Cornelius of Des Moines, formerly Miss Charlotte Murrin, who is here on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Murrin; Mrs. Leslie Dean, Mrs. D. W. Snoderly, Mrs. Gail Price, Miss Maud Hagins and Mrs. A. W. Hawkins. The hostess entertained her guests on the porch and was assisted in serving luncheon by Mrs. J. M. Smith and Mrs. J. P. Price. The two new members added at the last meeting, Mrs. Joseph Combs and Mrs. Byron Frost, were present. The next meeting of the club will be held with Mrs. John Murrin.

Miss Vernie Felter Married.

A quiet wedding took place Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. D. Felter, 203 South Buchanan street, when her daughter, Miss Vernie, was united in marriage to Professor Ernest A. Horton of Pine Bluff, Ark. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. B. Christy in the presence of a few intimate friends of the bride and groom. The bride's wedding gown was a brocaded satin messaline in pearl gray, sheened in the most delicate pink, with piping of the same color and touches of lace for trimming. Her bouquet was of Killarney roses. Professor and Mrs. Horton left on the noon Burlington train for a six weeks' honeymoon trip to the northern lakes. They will be at home in Pine Bluff, Ark., after September 15, where Professor Horton has charge of the manual training department in the high school. Mrs. Horton has been a teacher in the Maryville schools for ten years, and a valued worker and singer in the First M. E. church. Professor Horton had charge of the manual training school of the Maryville high school for two years before going to Pine Bluff. They have the best wishes of many friends for a happy and prosperous life.

Public Reception in Our New Store Saturday, July 26

We wish to announce that our new fixtures and fountain have been installed and that most of our new stock of Drugs and Sundries are now on the shelves, and that we will have a public opening and reception on

from 3 p. m. to 10 p. m.

There will be music and flowers to make the occasion an enjoyable one, and we will appreciate it very much to have you present.

We feel that in opening our Maryville store we took upon ourselves the duty of serving the people of Maryville and vicinity, faithfully, honestly and satisfactorily.

The world loves appearance; nations take pride in their capitol, and in their armies and navies; cities in their parks, boulevards and public buildings; individuals take pride in their personal appearance.

Our pride and conscientious aim shall be to give to the citizens of Maryville the one most complete up-to-date, clean and neat drug store and soda fountain to be found in all Northwest Missouri. Two registered pharmacists.

The Lenox Torrid Zone Steel Furnace

Has been on the market 19 years and I have installed them 17 of the 19 years. That is a long time to stick to one make of furnace, and, of course, there is a reason. Experience has proven the Torrid Zone Furnace the best.

It consumes less fuel and produces the most heat, has the greatest amount of radiation and delivers more heat to the hot-air circulating chamber than others in the same length of time.

Take note of the Torrid Zone construction:

The furnace shell—one piece of steel, the top, bottom and feed-door frame is of steel and riveted gas tight with wrought steel rivets, driven home with pneumatic riveters.

The radiator is hung to the smoke outlet on a wedge joint, the more the heat expands the joint the tighter the joint becomes.

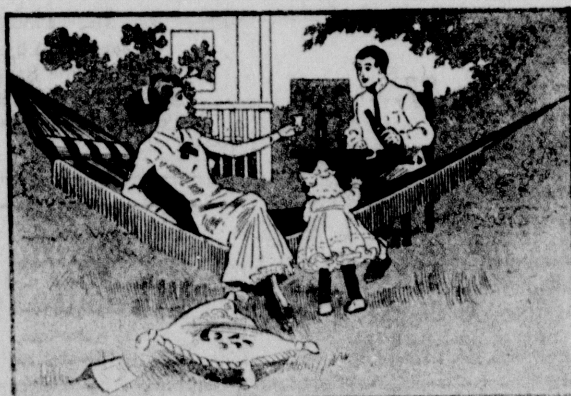

The dividing flue extends to within 8 inches of the bottom, causing the heat to travel 3 times the length of the radiator before escaping to the flue.

These are a few of the many reasons of its superiority. The one in our south window is a life size. Bring in your plans and let us furnish you estimates on heating the home.

SENATE READS TARIFF BILL

Progressive Republicans Line
Up With Democratic Side.

FEW PARAGRAPHS COMPLETED

Leaders of Dominant Party Supported Solidly in Every Test Vote—Republicans Criticize Estimates Prepared by Finance Committee Chairman.

Washington, July 24.—The senate took its first plunge into the intricacies of the Underwood-Simmons tariff revision bill. Only a few paragraphs of the voluminous measure had been completed on adjournment. On every test vote throughout the day the Democratic leaders were upheld, in some cases receiving the support of Republicans aligned with the Progressive element.

Detailed consideration of the bill began unexpectedly when it was found that no Republican senator was ready to deliver a general tariff speech. With the consent of the Republicans, the reading of the bill, line by line, was begun.

Vote With Democrats.

Tests of strength came upon a number of relatively unimportant issues embraced in duties upon chemicals and drugs. The Democratic ranks held solidly upon each vote. Upon the first vote, when Senator Smoot opposed a reduction of the oxalic acid duty from 2 cents to 1½ cents per pound, Senators Borah, Bristow, Crawford, Cummins, Jones, La Follette, Norris and Works, Republicans, and Senator Poindexter, Progressive, joined the Democrats in indorsing the proposed reduction. On a substantial vote to increase the duty on pyrogallol acid from 10 per cent to 15 per cent, Senators Gronna, Brady, Bristow, Clapp, Crawford, Cummins, Goff, Jones, Kenyon, Nelson, Norris, Perkins, Poindexter, Sherman, Warren and Works voted with the Democrats.

Avoid Debate.

Democratic senators evinced a determination to hold debate to a minimum. No Democratic senators participated in general discussion further than to give information as to the reasons for the reductions.

Republican senators criticized repeatedly the character of the estimates made by the Democratic leaders as the basis for the reduced duties. Several minor errors in the "tariff handbook," prepared by Chairman Simmons and his staff of experts, gave the Republicans an opportunity to question the authenticity of many estimates and to declare that the Democrats had no adequate idea of the amount of revenue that would be raised under the bill.

THIRTEEN BODIES RECOVERED

Taken From Ruins of Building Burned Beyond Recognition.

Binghamton, N. Y., July 24.—Thirteen bodies burned beyond recognition were recovered from the ruins of the overall factory of the Binghamton Clothing company.

One of the charred bodies is believed to be that of Nellie Connor, the forewoman who sacrificed her life in an effort to save those in her charge. A diamond ring and earrings worn by Miss Connor were found.

The body of Mrs. Mary Pryor, wife of Thomas Pryor, was identified by an insurance key bearing her name.

ROADS GRANT CONCESSIONS

Not Sufficient to Satisfy Trainers. However, and Deadlock Continues.

New York, July 24.—Efforts of the federal mediators in the Newlands act to have the eastern railroads and their 80,000 trainmen and conductors reach an arbitration understanding resulted in concessions on the part of the roads, according to unofficial statements.

The concessions were not sufficient to satisfy the men, however, and the deadlock remained unbroken.

The mediators met the men's committee to arbitration along with the agents. The roads, it was learned, consented to withdraw their demands that all of their eight grievances against their employees should be submitted to arbitration along with the men's wage demands. They were insistent, however, that some at least of their demands be taken up.

Colorado Officer Takes Own Life.

Denver, July 24.—William L. Clayton, insurance commissioner of Colorado during former Governor John Shafroth's administration, committed suicide at his home here by inhaling gas. Financial troubles are given as the reason for his act. He was heavily interested in lumber transactions in the northern part of Colorado.

Run on Chicago Bank Continues.

Chicago, July 24.—Just before the Kenwood Trust and Savings bank, at Grand boulevard and East Forty-seventh street, opened $200,000 in currency was carried inside by President A. K. Brown to quiet the fears of depositors who started a run on the bank following vague rumors as to the bank's condition.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. BLOW AT HUERTA GOVERNMENT

Wilson Proposes to Stop Exportation of Arms to Mexico.

BOTH SIDES TREATED ALIKE.

No Faction Will Be Permitted to Ship Guns or Ammunition From United States—Americans at Madera Under Siege and Short of Food.

Washington, July 24.—President Wilson has determined that no faction in the present Mexican revolution shall obtain arms or ammunition from the United States and that neutrality must be observed in its strictest sense. This was the interpretation of the neutrality laws decided upon after conferences with Senator Bacon and Representative Flood, chairman of the two congressional committees on foreign relations.

While the Mexican rebels have been getting no arms heretofore, developments mean that the Huerta administration will be deprived of the privilege previously given the Madero government and the United States will treat all sides alike in the present dispute.

The situation was precipitated by the recent complaints of the constitutionalists and their sympathizers in this country that if the United States did not virtually assist the Huerta government by selling it munitions of war a termination of hostilities would be possible.

A sentiment in favor of a new policy grew in congress to such an extent that a canvass was made of the foreign relations committees in both houses. It was found that there would be little objection to repealing the joint resolution of March 14, 1912, giving the president discretionary power to prohibit exportations of arms or munitions of war to countries where domestic violence existed, but permitting him to allow the legally constituted government of any country to buy war supplies as usual.

Americans Under Siege.

El Paso, July 24.—Huddled in two houses on the main street of Madera, Mexico, the Americans who are besieged by bandits, had been reduced practically to starvation when a messenger left there, fourteen days ago. He arrived here after a hard experience traveling overland through mud.

He said the bandits are surrounding the town, bent on murdering the Americans for the protection they have given some cowboys, who killed two members of the bandit band, and are firing their rifles into the little settlement at intervals. He declares that all canned goods had been exhausted when he left and that the Americans had been reduced to meal and a little flour.

Reports received at the rebel junta state that Pancho Villa has started south with his rebel command to relieve the Americans at Madera. Meantime the attack on Juarez is given up. Villa, it is said, hopes to win recognition for the rebels from the United States government by protecting its citizens.

ATTACH RECEIPTS OF SHOW

"Buffalo Bill's" Wild West on Rocks in Denver.

Denver, July 24.—"Buffalo Bill's" wild west and "Pawnee Bill's" far east show did not leave for Colorado Springs to fill its date in that city. Instead it remained in Denver, held fast by an attachment for $66,000 and the failure of its owners to agree upon a basis of settlement under the writ of attachment in favor of the United States Lithographing company of Chicago, which was issued by Judge Perry of the district court. Deputy sheriffs were present, not only to collect the cash returns to pay the claim of the Chicago firm, but also to see that none of the property of the show was moved.

MUTINY OF SWISS GUARDS

Leaders Expelled and Comrades Sing Marseillaise in Front of Vatican.

Rome, July 24.—Throughout the day the Vatican was in a veritable state of siege. This was the outcome of the mutiny of the Swiss guards, whose demands flatly were rejected.

Three leaders in the movement were expelled from the Vatican and four others left. Those who left were accompanied to the gates of the Vatican by their comrades. At the moment of separation they cried, "Viva Garibaldi!" Some of them joined in singing the Marseillaise. Never before was such a scene witnessed in front of the Vatican.

Chinese Storm Arsenal; 600 Slain.

Shanghai, July 24.—Southern rebels reported to number 10,000 attacked Kiangnan arsenal. The defenders, not exceeding 2,000, were strongly entrenched and, assisted by the navy, repelled three separate attacks. According to the estimates 600 rebels were killed.

Peace Prospects in Balkans Better.

London, July 24.—The prospects for peace among the Balkan states are much improved, the king of Rumania using his influence towards general reconciliation. The powers seem to have reached no decision how to deal with Turkey.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. MULHALL RESUMES HIS TESTIMONY

Senate Lobby Committee Gets
500 Letters Into Record.

Washington, July 24.—The senate lobby committee put on full speed ahead and in an unusually short session got into the record nearly 500 letters of Martin M. Mulhall, alleged political worker for the National Association of Manufacturers. Mulhall was on the stand only about an hour after the noon recess.

Mulhall's testimony covered a slack period in the summer and fall of 1909 and the early part of 1910, when there was nothing to do in his line except to work on strikes, tinker at a few odd jobs in politics and keep things generally moving in Washington. Neither Senators Cummins nor Nelson, Republican members of the committee, appeared at the hearing. Although neither would discuss the matter, it is generally known that they claim the Democrats have been playing politics with the investigation, particularly in the case of S. W. McClave, who was defeated for congress in the Sixth New Jersey district in a special election. McClave was brought into the case recently by Mulhall.

CLOUDBURSTS IN THE WEST

Storms Tie Up Traffic on Union, Southern and Western Pacific.

Ogden, Utah, July 24.—Cloudbursts on the Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and Western Pacific railroads caused passenger and freight traffic delays, the storm being the third serious one for the Union Pacific this week.

Eleven dwelling houses were destroyed and many people had narrow escapes from drowning when a cloudburst descended from the head of Hatesnake gulch, leading into lower Bingham canyon.

MRS. LARAMORE TELLS TROUBLES

Lady in Goodwater Describes Her Distressing Experience and Tells How She Was Finally Relieved.

Goodwater, Mo.—"Ever since I was a little girl," says Mrs. Riley Laramore, "I was a great sufferer from dyspepsia. I suffered misery after eating, and had terrible heartburn. I thought I had to suffer this way as long as I lived, but when I began to take Theford's Black-Draught, in small doses, every night, the heartburn was all gone in a few days, and I could eat without distress. I took two small packages in all, and although that was some time ago, the dyspepsia has not returned. I speak a good word for Theford's Black-Draught whenever I have the opportunity." If eating causes distress, we urge you to try Theford's Black-Draught. It cleanses the system, helps the stomach to digest its food, regulates the bowels, and stimulates the liver. It acts gently and is without bad after-effects. Try it. Price 25c.

ARE MARKING TIME

HOUSE WAITING FOR SENATE TO GET THROUGH.

GODDESS OF LIBERTY

Is Now Taking Her Occasional Bath—A Record in Foreign Trade Made by the Country.

(By W. C. Van Cleave.)

Washington, D. C., July 21.—While waiting for the senate to pass the tariff bill the house decided last week to resort to the delectable sport of investigating some more. The senate investigation has been supplying a goodly amount of interesting information and furnishing a harvest for the newspaper correspondents, and the house has felt itself rapidly sinking into temporary desuetude. So a resolution was passed broad enough to cover the past, present and hereafter of both dead and living, here and elsewhere, and preparations were made to start the mill to going, but the senate refused to give up its star performers until through with them, and we are therefore still marking time.

The senate investigation has resulted in some startling disclosures and developed mental portraits of some monumental jackasses. That a lobby has always existed here, and perhaps always will, was easily proved, not one lobby but numerous ones. Of this the public has been pretty well convinced, but the public never knew of Mulhall nor the pair of New York shysters who termed themselves "Wall Street operators."

Mulhall is just a shrewd lobbyist who maintained a comfortable existence by serving the privilege seekers in political chicanery, but it would require a more emphatic and less elegant expression to convey even a faint idea of Lamar and his right bower, Lauterbach. From the evidence introduced and their own admissions they would appear to be simply a pair of financial sandbaggers with the gall of a hundred men and utterly shameless. Financiers and public men were impersonated without reserve in telephone conversations, and when confronted with the evidence the fraud was promptly admitted by Lamar with brazen impudence. When one distinguished United States senator had asked to be sworn, and stated under oath that he had never seen or heard of Lamar, and that so far as he was concerned Lamar was every kind of a liar and several sorts of a criminal, Lamar calmly arose in his seat and said: "Don't allow yourself to get excited, senator; all you say has been proved and admitted here in evidence." And yet this peculiar sort of an "operator" was able to say to the senate committee and to the legal machinery of the country, "What are you going to do about it?" and as yet nobody knows, so skillfully did he operate to dodge the laws of the country.

The tariff bill is now before the senate, and from present indications will be speedily passed. Republican senators must be given time to make their stereotyped predictions of calamity and ruin, and then the steam roller will begin to move. The bill as reported to the senate carries lower duties in many cases than the bill that passed the house. It is not thought, however, that many of the amendments will be opposed seriously when it comes back to the house, and the leaders believe an agreement will be possible in conference without much delay.

The Goddess of Liberty is now taking her occasional bath. She doesn't suffer her dainty feet to come in contact with water often, but once in a long while consents to a thorough rub down by a competent corps of attendants, and then goes to her room. Each piece of lumber must be carried up the long distance and be taken down in like manner. For two weeks a number of men have been busy with scrub brushes and paint brushes, brightening up her raiment, and when the job is finished she will emerge in bright summery attire, perhaps with a silk skirt. Uncle Samuel will be plunk down sixteen thousand dollars to the boss masseur, but think of the joy of a bath at this season of the year.

A record in the foreign trade of the United States was made in the fiscal year 1913 just closed, as set forth in figures which the department of commerce has just made public. Both imports during the year were considerably larger than ever before—imports aggregating $1,812,621,160, and exports $2,465,761,910. For the preceding year the figures were $1,653,264,934 and $2,204,322,409.

The foreign commerce for 1913 totaled $4,278,383,070, as compared with $3,857,587,343 for 1912, an increase of $420,795,727, of which $159,356,226 was in imports and $261,439,501 in exports.

BRAN COSTS $21 PER TON
ALFALFA 5.15 ..

By careful analysis it has been found that alfalfa is equal to bran in protein content. Wheat bran costs about $21 per ton, whereas alfalfa can be grown for $5.15 per ton, as shown by the figures presented on this chart. Why should any one buy wheat bran when it costs four times as much as alfalfa, and alfalfa makes just as good, or even better, feed than wheat bran?

RAISING SKUNKS

P. M. SMITH OF NEAR ARKOE HAS TWENTY-ONE OF THEM.

TO SELL THEIR HIDES

As It Is Worth From $3 to $5—As Easy to Raise as Chickens Are, Says Mr. Smith.

The only skunk farm in the county, at least the only one where they are raising skunks, is down near Arkoe, one and a half miles northeast of that town. It belongs to P. M. Smith, an old trapper, having been in that business ever since he was 8 years old.

Mr. Smith is experimenting with skunks for the purpose of selling their hides, which sell for from $3 to $5. The oil from a skunk averaged about $1. Mr. Smith was recently in the city, and in talking to a representative of this paper, said:

"Skunks are so scarce that we must go to raising them to accumulate the furs to supply the demand of the market. It is no more trouble to raise them than to raise chickens."

"I started last April and had one skunk at that time. Now I have twenty-one of them. I keep them in a pen, three feet high, no top, and a floor bottom about a half inch thick. And they don't throw their scent."

"My boy, Ernest, played with the skunks, the same as he would with a kitten."

"The Kiss and the Red Ear" by Homer Croy

Every summer, when the tent shows come to town, and during the "specialty," some boy in the audience lets off some wit, and the actor immediately replies with that stock joke, "You can take the boy out of the country, but you can't take the country out of the boy." If this joke ever fit anyone, Homer Croy is the person. He can't keep from saying and writing things which reveal his rural bringing up and his secret longing to get back to the "sticks" and good old times. The following story of his, taken from Collier's Weekly, is one more proof of this.

I see by the papers that the scientists are doing all they can to eliminate the red ear. They say that this shows that the breed of corn is running out, and that the red ear is good for nothing. I beg leave to differ with them. It is good for a kiss.
And there is nothing better than a kiss—unless it's a hammock.
Old Mr. Taylor, who lived on Clear creek, had a large family of girls, and he didn't take any time to get his fodder shucked out. Along in the fall he would spread his fodder on the hall floor of the barn and have a shucking bee. Every time you found a red ear you had to kiss your partner, and I certainly loved to shuck corn. It is my favorite recreation. The work never calls on me. I'm not much on standing corn, but when it comes to fodder I dearly love to strip the ear bare of its

FREED OF CHARGE

EVIDENCE NOT SUFFICIENT, SAYS JUSTICE W. L. JOHNSON.

THEY WERE RELEASED

Hawk, Kinder and Conklin Discharged From County Jail On Charge of Robbery.

"Buzard" Hawk, "Peg" Conklin and "Yats" Kinder were freed Wednesday of the charge of robbery brought against them in a preliminary hearing in Justice Johnson's court.

Judge Johnson said that the evidence was not sufficient to show that a crime had been committed, and therefore the defendants could not be held. On the other hand, the testimony showed that the plaintiff, George Black of Trenton, who alleged that the three defendants had robbed him on the night of July 5, was too intoxicated at that time to know what happened to him.

The case, which lasted all day yesterday, occasioned a great interest, as the defendants are well known here, and many people thought they would be bound over for trial at the September term of circuit court.

The most damaging piece of evidence against Hawk, Conklin and Kinder was that after being with Black on the night of the alleged assault they left town on a freight train the next day. They were traced through Iowa and Nebraska, and were not arrested until last Friday, when they were apprehended in St. Joseph. The defense, however, brought out that although they left town, they did not do it in a skulking manner. They were here for a day after the alleged assault, and when arrested were found at the home of Hawk's mother, a place where the police would be likely to look for them.

The fact that none of the clothing or money Black said was taken from him was found in the possession of the defendants, and also the fact that the evidence showed that Black had spent too much money to have left what he said was stolen from him, aided in the acquittal of the three men.

WILL ARRIVE FRIDAY.

Remains of Logan Holt, Who Died Wednesday at Ft. Collins, Col., Expected Tomorrow.

Word was received today that the remains of Logan Holt, who died Wednesday morning at 5 o'clock at Ft. Collins, Col., after a short illness, had left that place at 9 o'clock this morning. It is expected that the body will arrive in Maryville some time Friday, by way of Omaha, and funeral services probably will be held on Saturday at the residence on Prather avenue.

Mrs. W. H. Davenport, the only daughter of Mr. Holt, is on her way to Maryville for the services. Mrs. Davenport lives at St. Petersburg, Fla.

According to a letter received Thursday, Mr. Holt died from gangrene, which developed following an injury to the left thigh during an auto ride. The injury was received last Friday, Mr. Holt being in an auto stage coach on his way to a ranch about fifty miles from Ft. Collins. The auto stage coach hit a chuck hole, throwing Mr. Holt from his seat, and when he came down his thigh struck the side of the car and the bruise resulted in gangrene setting in. He was taken to a hospital at Ft. Collins and was attended by a friend of his—Dr. Goodings.

Popularizing of Horse Meat as a Food—Horse Meat Being Sent to Europe.
A dispatch from Chicago states that plans for a dinner to remove the prejudice against the eating of horse flesh were announced recently by Hugo Krause, superintendent of the Anti-Cruelty society. It will be given in the stock yards district and will be the first feast of its kind in Chicago.

The popularizing of horse meat as food will prevent much of the cruelty these animals suffer, Mr. Krause believes. He says there are 250,000 horses in Chicago, and they last an average of five years before becoming disabled. He says that after five years horses should be butchered for food instead of being worked longer or sent to the country for use there.

"There are 250,000 foreigners in Chicago who are accustomed to eating horseflesh," said Mr. Krause. "Horses are being slaughtered in Chicago today, the meat salted and shipped to Europe."

"There are twenty-five thousand poor persons in the city who cannot buy beef. They need meat for nourishment and could buy horse steaks at 10 and 15 cents."

WAS FOUND DEAD

MRS. J. F. HILDEBRAND OF GUILFORD MET DEATH AS RESULT OF

DUE TO FIRE AND BLOW

Her Night Clothing Caught Fire and Then She Fell On Well Curb, Striking Her Head.

Mrs. J. F. Hildebrand, wife of a retired merchant of Guilford, was found this morning by her husband lying dead at the well curb in the yard. Her burned night clothing and a pool of blood next to the curb indicated that death had been due to fire and the blow received when her head struck the curb as she fell.

Mr. and Mrs. Hildebrand, a couple in their sixties, and Mrs. Robert Nelson, who has been living with them for some time, were all sitting together Wednesday evening in the house. Just before they went to bed in the cook stove he left going, as she might want to get up in the night and make some coffee. She had been in poor health of late and often got up during the night to make herself a cup of coffee or tea.

They all went to bed then, and nothing was known of the accident until this morning. Mr. Hildebrand said that he had been awake once or twice during the night, but that he had heard no cries of any kind and supposed that his wife was in the kitchen making her coffee.

This morning Mr. Hildebrand got up and went out of the kitchen door to get some water. He found his wife dead at the well. Her night dress was burned from her body, and some underclothing which she had on was scorched. She had fallen against the well curb and cut her head. A set of artificial teeth had fallen from her mouth, but the glasses which she was wearing were unbroken. Evidently her clothing had caught fire from the stove or in an endeavor to light a lamp, and she had run to the well to get water and put out the flames. The flames had apparently swept around her head, strangling and overcoming her so that she fell and struck her head against the well curb, the two things causing her death. There was no evidence of any coal oil or gasoline having been used.

No funeral services have been arranged for as yet.

Two sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. Hildebrand, one of whom is living. He is Herbert Hildebrand, who is in the freight office of the Chicago Great Western railway at St. Joseph, Harry, the other son, died several years ago. His widow and two children live in Guilford.

Dr. Barnett telephoned the circumstances to Coroner Will Wallis, Jr., of Maryville this morning, and he decided that no inquest would be necessary.

About three years ago Mrs. W. S. Dunlap was killed in an accident almost identical with this one, and only two blocks away from it.

No funeral services have been arranged for as yet.

WAS FOUND DEAD

MRS. J. F. HILDEBRAND OF GUILFORD MET DEATH AS RESULT OF

DUE TO FIRE AND BLOW

Her Night Clothing Caught Fire and Then She Fell On Well Curb, Striking Her Head.

Mrs. J. F. Hildebrand, wife of a retired merchant of Guilford, was found this morning by her husband lying dead at the well curb in the yard. Her burned night clothing and a pool of blood next to the curb indicated that death had been due to fire and the blow received when her head struck the curb as she fell.

Mr. and Mrs. Hildebrand, a couple in their sixties, and Mrs. Robert Nelson, who has been living with them for some time, were all sitting together Wednesday evening in the house. Just before they went to bed in the cook stove he left going, as she might want to get up in the night and make some coffee. She had been in poor health of late and often got up during the night to make herself a cup of coffee or tea.

They all went to bed then, and nothing was known of the accident until this morning. Mr. Hildebrand said that he had been awake once or twice during the night, but that he had heard no cries of any kind and supposed that his wife was in the kitchen making her coffee.

THE GOOD ROADS PROCLAMATION.

Twenty years ago, even ten years ago, a good roads proclamation like that issued Monday by Governor Major would have been a surprising document. It would have been subject to ridicule. We were then vaguely muttering of iniquitous highways. There was no generally constructive program in sight.

Governor Major's proclamation makes good road work every man's immediate concern. It becomes the business of every able-bodied Missourian on August 21 and 22 to see that he personally does something toward making the state highways better.

The idea is not altogether new. Michigan tried it this spring. Michigan farmers, merchants and bankers made it a success. One college president shoveled gravel all day. Women fed the workers by the roadsides.

Missouri's roads have been ordinary dirt roads in the past. This year permanent work is being done. The new motor vehicle act has placed at the disposal of the state road builders a fund of $225,000 for use in the next two years. This money is paying for the split-log drags that are now smoothing the highways running from county seat to county seat.

The sentiment in favor of better

roads makes Governor Major's proclamation timely and popular. Men are talking good roads in the hay fields, crossroads stores and across line fences. The thousands of men and teams, split-log drags, graders and seers that will be strung out along the highways of the state for two days next month will be convincing evidence that the state realizes the fact that better roads mean a better country life.—St. Louis Republic.

Moral Courage.

The courage to be just; the courage to be honest; the courage to resist temptation; the courage to do one's duty; this is the moral courage that characterizes the highest order of manhood and womanhood—it is the courage without which no great permanent success in life is achieved.—Samuel Smiles.

No Hurry.

Jealous One—So you screamed when Jack tried to kiss you?
Other One—I did nothing of the kind!
Jealous One—But I heard you.
Other One—Oh, but that was not until after he had kissed me.—Illinois Siren.

"The Kiss and the Red Ear" by Homer Croy

he withdrew, and a kind neighbor took me home in a buckboard. I did not thank the neighbor, as I did not know that he had taken me home until the next morning.

But it was no time until I was out and myself again. In a couple of weeks I could sit up, and in three weeks I could walk to the front porch.

But there was an inner injury that stung me worse than where Lufe had been on my features. He publicly said that I had used the same ear all evening!

Still I wish the agricultural scientists wouldn't do away with the red ears. I wish they would leave just one anyway!

Broke Tomato Record in Kansas City.
Joseph F. Brown, a Kansas City traveling salesman and a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hastings of Maryville, has broken the Kansas City record for big tomatoes. The 17-inch size was the record breaker until Tuesday of this week, when the Kansas City Star said that Mr. Brown has in his garden, at 2614 Campbell street, a tomato of the Ponderosa variety measuring nineteen inches, and that it is still growing.

Miss Vera Pearson, who has been visiting Mrs. Ed Bratcher and other friends and relatives in and near Maryville for some time, left Thursday morning for her home in Okeene, Okla.

Miss Vernie Felter Married.

A quiet wedding took place Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. D. Felter, 203 South Buchanan street, when her daughter, Miss Vernie, was united in marriage to Professor Ernest A. Horton of Pine Bluff, Ark. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. B. Christy in the presence of a few intimate friends of the bride and groom. The bride's wedding gown was a brocaded satin messaline in pearl gray, sheened in the most delicate pink, with piping of the same color and touches of lace for trimming. Her bouquet was of Killarney roses. Professor and Mrs. Horton left on the noon Burlington train for a six weeks' honeymoon trip to the northern lakes. They will be at home in Pine Bluff, Ark., after September 15, where Professor Horton has charge of the manual training department in the high school. Mrs. Horton has been a teacher in the Maryville schools for ten years, and a valued worker and singer in the First M. E. church. Professor Horton had charge of the manual training school of the Maryville high school for two years before going to Pine Bluff. They have the best wishes of many friends for a happy and prosperous life.

The Lenox Torrid Zone Steel Furnace

Has been on the market 19 years and I have installed them 17 of the 19 years. That is a long time to stick to one make of furnace, and, of course, there is a reason. Experience has proven the Torrid Zone Furnace the best.

It consumes less fuel and produces the most heat, has the greatest amount of radiation and delivers more heat to the hot-air circulating chamber than others in the same length of time.

Take note of the Torrid Zone construction:

The furnace shell—one piece of steel, the top, bottom and feed-door frame is of steel and riveted gas tight with wrought steel rivets, driven home with pneumatic riveters.

The radiator is hung to the smoke outlet on a wedge joint, the more the heat expands the joint the tighter the joint becomes.

The dividing flue extends to within 8 inches of the bottom, causing the heat to travel 3 times the length of the radiator before escaping to the flue.

These are a few of the many reasons of its superiority. The one in our south window is a life size. Bring in your plans and let us furnish you estimates on heating the home.

SENATE READS TARIFF BILL

Progressive Republicans Line
Up With Democratic Side.

FEW PARAGRAPHS COMPLETED

Leaders of Dominant Party Supported Solidly in Every Test Vote—Republicans Criticize Estimates Prepared by Finance Committee Chairman.

Washington, July 24.—The senate took its first plunge into the intricacies of the Underwood-Simmons tariff revision bill. Only a few paragraphs of the voluminous measure had been completed on adjournment. On every test vote throughout the day the Democratic leaders were upheld, in some cases receiving the support of Republicans aligned with the Progressive element.

Detailed consideration of the bill began unexpectedly when it was found that no Republican senator was ready to deliver a general tariff speech. With the consent of the Republicans, the reading of the bill, line by line, was begun.

Vote With Democrats.
Tests of strength came upon a number of relatively unimportant issues embraced in duties upon chemicals and drugs. The Democratic ranks held solidly upon each vote. Upon the first vote, when Senator Smoot opposed a reduction of the oxalic acid duty from 2 cents to 1½ cents per pound, Senators Borah, Bristow, Crawford, Cummins, Jones, La Follette, Norris and Works, Republicans, and Senator Poindexter, Progressive, joined the Democrats in indorsing the proposed reduction. On a substantial vote to increase the duty on pyrogallia acid from 10 per cent to 15 per cent, Senators Gurnea, Brady, Bristow, Clapp, Crawford, Cummins, Goff Jones, Kenyon, Nelson, Norris, Perkins, Poindexter, Sherman, Warren and Works voted with the Democrats.

Avoid Debate.
Democratic senators evinced a determination to hold debate to a minimum. No Democratic senators participated in general discussion further than to give information as to the reasons for the reductions.

Republican senators criticized repeatedly the character of the estimates made by the Democratic leaders as the basis for the reduced duties. Several minor errors in the "tariff handbook," prepared by Chairman Simmons and his staff of experts, gave the Republicans an opportunity to question the authenticity of many estimates and to declare that the Democrats had no adequate idea of the amount of revenue that would be raised under the bill.

THIRTEEN BODIES RECOVERED

Taken From Ruins of Building Burned Beyond Recognition.

Binghamton, N. Y., July 24.—Thirteen bodies burned beyond recognition were recovered from the ruins of the overall factory of the Binghamton Clothing company.

One of the charred bodies is believed to be that of Nellie Connor, the forewoman who sacrificed her life in an effort to save those in her charge. A diamond ring and earrings worn by Miss Connor were found.

The body of Mrs. Mary Pryor, wife of Thomas Pryor, was identified by an insurance key bearing her name.

It is still impossible accurately to estimate the number of dead. At least fifty, probably more, are believed to have perished in the flames. At least 111 persons are said to have been in the building when the fire broke out.

ROADS GRANT CONCESSIONS

Not Sufficient to Satisfy Trainmen. However, and Deadlock Continues.

New York, July 24.—Efforts of the federal mediators in the Newlands act to have the eastern railroads and their 80,000 trainmen and conductors reach an arbitration understanding resulted in concessions on the part of the roads, according to unofficial statements. The concessions were not sufficient to satisfy the men, however, and the deadlock remained unbroken.

The mediators met the men's committee to arbitration along with the agents. The roads, it was learned, consented to withdraw their demands that all of their eight grievances against their employees should be submitted to arbitration along with the men's wage demands. They were in dissent, however, that some at least of their demands be taken up.

Colorado Officer Takes Own Life.

Denver, July 24.—William L. Clayton, insurance commissioner of Colorado during former Governor John Shafroth's administration, committed suicide at his home here by inhaling gas. Financial troubles are given as the reason for his act. He was heavily interested in lumber transactions in the northern part of Colorado.

Run on Chicago Bank Continues.

Chicago, July 24.—Just before the Kenwood Trust and Savings bank, at Grand boulevard and East Forty-seventh street, opened $200,000 in currency was carried inside by President A. K. Brown to quiet the fears of depositors who started a run on the bank following vague rumors as to the bank's condition.

BLOW AT HUERTA GOVERNMENT

Wilson Proposes to Stop Exportation of Arms to Mexico.

BOTH SIDES TREATED ALIKE.

No Faction Will Be Permitted to Ship Guns or Ammunition From United States—Americans at Madera Under Siege and Short of Food.

Washington, July 24.—President Wilson has determined that no faction in the present Mexican revolution shall obtain arms or ammunition from the United States and that neutrality must be observed in its strictest sense. This was the interpretation of the neutrality laws decided upon after conferences with Senator Bacon and Representative Flood, chairman of the two congressional committees on foreign relations.

While the Mexican rebels have been getting no arms heretofore, developments mean that the Huerta administration will be deprived of the privilege previously given the Madero government and the United States will treat all sides alike in the present dispute.

The situation was precipitated by the recent complaints of the constitutionalists and their sympathizers in this country that if the United States did not virtually assist the Huerta government by selling it munitions of war a termination of hostilities would be possible.

A sentiment in favor of a new policy grew in congress to such an extent that a canvass was made of the foreign relations committees in both houses. It was found that there would be little objection to repealing the joint resolution of March 14, 1912, giving the president discretionary power to prohibit exportations of arms or munitions of war to countries where domestic violence existed, but permitting him to allow the legally constituted government of any country to buy war supplies as usual.

Americans Under Siege.

El Paso, July 24.—Huddled in two houses on the main street of Madera, Mexico, the Americans who are besieged by bandits, had been reduced practically to starvation when a messenger left there, fourteen days ago. He arrived here after a hard experience traveling overland through mud. He said the bandits are surrounding the town, bent on murdering the Americans for the protection they have given some cowboys, who killed two members of the bandit band, and are firing their rifles into the little settlement at intervals. He declares that all canned goods had been exhausted when he left and that the Americans had been reduced to meat and a little flour.

Reports received at the rebel junta state that Pancho Villa has started south with his rebel command to relieve the Americans at Madera. Meantime the attack on Juarez is given up. Villa, it is said, hopes to win recognition for the rebels from the United States government by protecting its citizens.

ATTACH RECEIPTS OF SHOW

"Buffalo Bill's" Wild West on Rocks in Denver.

Denver, July 24.—"Buffalo Bill's" wild west and "Pawnee Bill's" far east show did not leave for Colorado Springs to fill its date in that city. Instead it remained in Denver, held fast by an attachment for $66,000 and the failure of its owners to agree upon a basis of settlement under the writ of attachment in favor of the United States Lithographing company of Chicago, which was issued by Judge Perry of the district court. Deputy sheriffs were present, not only to collect the cash returns to pay the claim of the Chicago firm, but also to see that none of the property of the show was moved.

MUTINY OF SWISS GUARDS

Leaders Expelled and Comrades Sing Marseillaise in Front of Vatican.

Rome, July 24.—Throughout the day the Vatican was in a veritable state of siege. This was the outcome of the mutiny of the Swiss guards, whose demands flatly were rejected.

Three leaders in the movement were expelled from the Vatican and four others left. Those who left were accompanied to the gates of the Vatican by their comrades. At the moment of separation they cried, "Viva Garibaldi!" Some of them joined in singing the Marseillaise. Never before was such a scene witnessed in front of the Vatican.

Chinese Storm Arsenal; 600 Slain.

Shanghai, July 24.—Southern rebels reported to number 10,000 attacked Kiangnan arsenal. The defenders, not exceeding 2,000, were strongly entrenched and, assisted by the navy, repelled three separate attacks. According to the estimates 600 rebels were killed.

Peace Prospects in Balkans Better.

London, July 24.—The prospects for peace among the Balkan states are much improved, the king of Rumania using his influence towards general conciliation. The powers seem to have reached no decision how to deal with Turkey.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

MULHALL RESUMES HIS TESTIMONY

Senate Lobby Committee Gets
500 Letters Into Record.

Washington, July 24.—The senate lobby committee put on full speed ahead and in an unusually short session got into the record nearly 500 letters of Martin M. Mulhall, alleged political worker for the National Association of Manufacturers. Mulhall was on the stand only about an hour after the noon recess.

Mulhall's testimony covered a slack period in the summer and fall of 1909 and the early part of 1910, when there was nothing to do in his line except to work on strikes, tinker at a few odd jobs in politics and keep things generally moving in Washington.

Neither Senators Cummins nor Nelson, Republican members of the committee, appeared at the hearing. Although neither would discuss the matter, it is generally known that they claim the Democrats have been playing politics with the investigation, particularly in the case of S. W. McClave, who was defeated for congress in the Sixth New Jersey district in a special election. McClave was brought into the case recently by Mulhall.

CLOUDBURSTS IN THE WEST

Ogden, Utah, July 24.—Cloudbursts on the Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and Western Pacific railroads caused passenger and freight traffic delays, the storm being the third serious one for the Union Pacific this week.
Eleven dwelling houses were destroyed and many people had narrow escapes from drowning when a cloudburst descended from the head of the Bingham gulch, leading into lower Bingham canyon.

MRS. LARAMORE TELLS TROUBLES

Lady in Goodwater Describes Her Distressing Experience and Tells How She Was Finally Relieved.

Goodwater, Mo.—"Ever since I was a little girl," says Mrs. Riley Laramore, "I was a great sufferer from dyspepsia. I suffered misery after eating, and had terrible heartburn. I thought I had to suffer this way as long as I lived, but when I began to take Thedford's Black-Draught, in small doses, every night, the heartburn was all gone in a few days, and I could eat without distress. I took two small packages in all, and although that was some time ago, the dyspepsia has not returned. I speak a good word for Thedford's Black-Draught whenever I have the opportunity. If eating causes distress, we urge you to try Thedford's Black-Draught. It cleanses the system, helps the stomach to digest its food, regulates the bowels, and stimulates the liver. It acts gently and is without bad after-effects. Try it. Price 25c."
